

BRITISH SOLDIERS !

A whole year you are wandering around on the mountains and in the caves of Crete living a life of misery.

The greek inhabitants don't give you any more food they are afraid of being shot for favouring the enemy are right to do so.

Your hope your countrymen will come to fetch you from the island has vanished by the successes of the german and italian forces in Africa.

You told the greek that you are going to be shot surrendering to the german authorities or being captured that's not right, according to the Hague convention you are treated as prisoners of war and interned.

Don't be afraid ! It's to your own advantage to announce yourselves to the german, italian or greek authorities !
